Global nutrition company Herbalife, announced that Eric D. Rosen will join Herbalife’s growing global corporate affairs team as vice president of government relations and director of its Washington, D.C. office. Rosen will oversee Herbalife’s D.C. operations and will report to Ric Hobby, who was recently appointed as head of Herbalife’s global government relations reporting to Alan Hoffman, executive vice president of the global corporate affairs team.

Rosen, who will be based out of Herbalife’s D.C. office, is a Capitol Hill veteran with experience in the Senate, House, and Executive Branch. For more than five years, he served as Judiciary Committee counsel to then Senator Joseph R. Biden, Jr. Rosen also served in the United States Attorney’s office in the Northern District of California where he prosecuted cases on behalf of the United States.

Rosen has a B.A. in international relations from the University of Pennsylvania and a J.D. from George Washington University Law School.
