Prime Minister Narendra Modi recently inaugurated Amul’s ultra-modern chocolate plant in Anand, Gujarat.

Recognising the contribution of the cooperative movement and the dairy sector to the farming community, and in livelihood generation, PM stated that Amul is an example of an economy where neither the government nor the merchants have all the controls.

The chocolate plant, built with an investment of Rs 190 crore, will produce 1,000 tonnes of chocolates every month against the capacity of 600 tonnes of the existing plant.
