NEWS | TECHNOLOGIES

Bosch launches fully automatic espresso machines

The new fully automatic espresso machine offers premium-quality coffee and a wide variety of beverage options from freshly ground beans, all with just a touch of a button on the large, user-friendly active select display

By Shraddha Warde | January 12, 2024

TQU60703_800Series_Visual_Design_03_0021_CAM2_GR04

> WordPress post #30340

The new fully automatic espresso machine offers premium-quality coffee and a wide variety of beverage options from freshly ground beans, all with just a touch of a button on the large, user-friendly active select display

Bosch Home Appliances, the award-winning home appliance brand, has announced the launch of a new line of countertop Fully Automatic Espresso Machines, a CES 2024 Innovation Award Honoree in the smart home category. The new Fully Automatic Espresso Machine offers premium-quality coffee and a wide variety of beverage options from freshly ground beans, all with just a touch of a button on the large, user-friendly Active Select Display.

CES is one of the most recognized and influential technology events in the world, serving as a premiere showcase for new designs and world-class products across the globe. The CES Innovation Awards program is an annual competition honouring breakthrough products across 28 categories. The new 800 Series Fully Automatic Espresso Machine was recognized for sophisticated monitoring and seamless technology through Home Connect®.

“This product is a testament to our profound understanding of consumer needs and our commitment to state-of-the-art technology for the home,” said Hannah Kühner, Head of Consumer Products Region North America, Bosch. “We can't wait to introduce the complete Bosch lineup to consumers in 2024."

Read online: https://nuffoodsspectrum.in/news/16/20639/bosch-launches-fully-automatic-espresso-machines.html
© 2026 NUFFOODS Spectrum. All rights reserved.