Shandi Global, the Singapore-headquartered clean, plant-based protein company, has announced a strategic partnership with Gold’s Gym India to retail its flagship chickpea protein product Chanza across Gold’s Gym centres nationwide. In addition, the company has also announced the retail launch of Chanza on The Clean Source, India’s leading e-commerce platform to promote Shandi’s protein products and sell them online and offline.

Chanza Plant Protein Chunks are neutral in taste and made from sprouted powdered chickpeas, delivering 33 grams of protein per serving with superior bioavailability. The product is 100 per cent plant-based, vegan, chemical-free, and preservative-free, designed to integrate seamlessly into Indian meals such as curries, stir-fries, wraps, and salads.

“Gold’s Gym has played a key role in shaping India’s fitness culture, and partnering with them allows us to meet consumers right at the start of their health journeys,” said Dr Reena Sharma, Co-Founder, Shandi Global. “At the same time, launching Chanza on The Clean Source ensures that clean, real-food protein is easily accessible beyond the gym. Our mission is to make plant-powered nutrition practical, tasty, and sustainable for everyday Indians.”
