The event underscores India’s expanding influence in shaping integrative and traditional healthcare narratives worldwide

Burnett Homoeopathy Pvt. Ltd. hosted the 4th World Homoeopathy Summit 2026 at the Palace of Westminster in London, marking a significant step in India’s growing role in global healthcare. Held within the House of Lords, the event reflected increasing international engagement with homoeopathy and integrative medicine.

The summit brought together over 150 doctors, researchers, and practitioners to discuss clinical research, sustainable healthcare, and integration with modern medicine. Founder Dr. Nitish Chandra Dubey emphasized the need for stronger scientific frameworks and global collaboration.

Key attendees included MP Shivani Raja, Lord Raval, and representatives linked to 10 Downing Street. International cricketers such as Eoin Morgan and Stuart Broad also participated, highlighting homoeopathy’s relevance in wellness and recovery.

Sessions extended to the University of Oxford, reinforcing academic collaboration. Coinciding with World Homeopathy Day, the summit underscored India’s leadership in advancing homoeopathy through research, dialogue, and global partnerships.
