

Kemin appoints new President for Kemin Nutrurance

17 December 2019 | News | By Kalyani Sharma

Riou to lead the pet food and rendering technologies global business as its current president transitions into a new cross-business leadership role

Kemin Industries, a global ingredient manufacturer has announced the appointment of Yannick Riou to President of Kemin Nutrurance, the pet food and rendering technologies business unit.

Riou will take over for David Raveyre, who is now Group President at Kemin Industries, beginning December 16, 2019.

Riou was formerly president of Diana Food. In 1998, he started as a sales manager at Diana and then took on various leadership roles around the globe, serving as Managing Director for SPF in Argentina and Global Sales Director for Diana Petfood, based in France. Before taking over as President of Diana Food, Riou served as General Manager of North America for the company.

Dr. Chris Nelson, President and CEO, Kemin said, "We are thrilled to have Yannick join Kemin, as he brings extensive expertise in the pet food industry to our Nutrurance team. David has worked diligently to build our pet food business, and I believe Yannick can use this foundation of success to create an even stronger brand that distinguishes us in the global pet food industry for our innovation, expertise and commitment to science-backed solutions."

Yannick, a native and current resident of France, will relocate to the Kemin global headquarters in Des Moines, Iowa, U.S.A., in June 2020. Until that date, he will lead the business unit from his current location in France.

